CATTLE AND POULTRY LEAD IN BIG EXHIBITS AT KINGSTON FAIR

With an attendance of over 2,000 the Rhode Island state fair opened at Kingston, R. I., on Tuesday at the new 100-acre fair grounds. Ideal weather conditions favored the first day and the grounds were thronged with pleasure-seeking crowds from early morning until late in the afternoon, crowds attending from every part of Rhode Island and many cities in Connecticut and Massachusetts.

The exhibits included the best in farm produce that "Little Rhode" could turn out. These exhibits were attractively laid out in agricultural hall and included several grange exhibits from various towns in the state. Of especial interest was the exhibit in the main hall where produce including mammoth pumpkins, squashes and record-breaking corn and other prize produce were to be seen.

The cattle exhibit this year exceeded all other years in its size and quality of animals exhibited. One of the most notable exhibits in the long sheds where hundreds of head of stock are greatly admired, is that of the Lonsdale Farm of Lonsdale, R. I. This exhibit is a herd of thirty Holsteins headed by a large registered bull of state-wide reputation. The Lonsdale Farm has about 25 head of Ayrshire cattle and several pairs of steers. Stony Brook Farm has a herd of Jersey on exhibition and the Quinnesett Farm also exhibits a beautiful herd of cattle. One other beautiful herd of Holsteins is that of the Moore Neck Farm which shows a herd of thirty cattle.

Next to the cattle exhibit is that of the poultry which is considered one of the best poultry shows in New England. Here is exhibited poultry of practically every known breed and each breed is a prize winner in its class. At an estimate there are fifteen hundred birds on exhibition in the large canvas tent that stands at the right of the main entrance. Notable in this tent is Rhode's own breed, the Rhode Island Reds, this breed seeming to take precedence over all other breeds. The Berred Plymouth Rock exhibit is one worthy of mention as are the Wyanottes and other breeds that are of an unknown variety.

Another feature on the grounds is the automobile show which is one of the largest ever held at any state fair. This exhibit shows over 40 makes of cars from the lowly Ford to the exclusive $10,000 makes. The exhibit is well laid out and shows the beauty of line of the machines to advantage.

Beautiful Flower Show. Of great beauty is the horticultural show and the arrangement and harmony of color presented by this exhibit was one that pleased even the most critical eye. The dahlias exhibit was one of beauty and originality in display and in variety. There was one beautiful display of phlox and hardy pink making an attractive floral picture.

The exhibition of farm machinery, which included practically every appliance for the farm. Several makes of electric plants were shown and water systems for the farm attracted many to the exhibit. Tractors, motor driven harvesters, binders, spreaders and other farm implements were shown.

The electrical appliances exhibited were numerous, including washing machines, fans and many other household appliances operated by electricity. Also in this exhibition hall were shown many automobile accessories.

Among the livestock exhibits is one of swine and one of sheep. As Tuesday was entry day the whole exhibit was not present, but there were several good pens of Berkshire hogs and sows and several nice looking litters of pigs. The exhibit of sheep was very good, there being several fine looking flocks of Shropshires with ewes and lambs with a number of thoroughbred rams. The judging of the sheep and swine will take place today (Wednesday).

The Rhode Island State College of Kingston had a good exhibit in Hazard hall much of the livestock and work at the college was shown. The midway presented many unusual attractions such as the motorcade, side shows, blanket and candy booths and a hundred and one other attractions that were well patronized throughout the day. The main midway is located in the rear of the grandstand and with its multi-colored trimmings presents a fine appearance.

Expect Record Breaking Attendance. For a first or entry day at the fair the attendance was good and it is expected that on the next four days with special attractions for each day there will be record-breaking attendances. Thursday will be the feature day of the fair it being Governor's Day.

The vaudeville attractions which were put on between the heats of the races proved to be of unusual merit and pleased the crowds that had assembled in the grandstand. The vaudeville included several clever acrobatic acts and several comedy acts. The two features of the vaudeville programme were the twinning, who presented a clever exhibition of horseback riding and trick riding, and the trained dog act which was one of the best ever seen at the grounds.

Three Races on Card. The racing, which included a 2.35 was a 2.35 race and a 2.15 race, was very good and test time for the classes was made in some of the heats. All the races were won in straight heats, but there was also competition in every heat, but only length separating the first three horses.

The 2.35 race was the first race on the card and was won in straight heats by Miss Calvert, her best time being 2.19 1-2, made in the first heat. Frank Abbe, A. L. Buxton of Providence, took second money and gave Miss Calvert a good run for the money. Third money went to Camerton, owned by G. E. Bates of Norwich.

In the 2.15 race Edna Seizer, a Fall River mare, owned by August Herbert, won in straight heats, while Senty, b. s. t. Fay of South Weymouth, Mass., took second money and King Hall, b. s. w. B. Martin, Rockville, placed third. The best time in this race was 2.11 1-4 made by Edna Seizer in the second heat.

The 2.15 race was also won in straight heats, each of the three starters placing in the same position in each heat. The race was won by Senty, b. s. t. Fay of South Weymouth, Mass., taking first money with D. D. Warner's Lester W., taking second and Samhurst, August Herbert's brown gelding taking third money.

The summary follows: 2.35 race, purse $360: Miss Calvert, b. m. Ford Calvert, R. I. Taylor, South Weymouth, Mass. 1 1 1; Frank Abbe, The Abbe, A. L. Buxton, Providence, R. I. 2 2 2; Camerton, b. s. t. Fay, W. B. Martin, Rockville, Conn. 4 3 5; Conn. 4 3 5; Main Day, blk. g. Malashet, August Herbert, Fall River, Capt. Murray, g. s. Jos. P. chas. A. M. Glenwood

The Range That Really Saves

There are two separate ovens—one for coal and one for gas. Both ovens may be used at one time—or either may be used singly. In addition to the two baking ovens, there is a gas broiler oven. There is room on the coal and gas sections, at the top, for NINE large utensils. You can do all of your cooking at one time. You can do it better—with less waste and less work. You have coal for winter, to keep the kitchen warm and comfortable; and gas for summer, to keep the kitchen cool.

The illustration below shows the wonderful pearl grey porcelain enamel finish—so neat and attractive. By simply passing a damp cloth over the surface you are able to clean your range instantly. No more soiled hands, no more dust and smut. It banishes the old time task of blacking the range. You owe it to yourself to enjoy the comfort and convenience of the Gold Medal Glenwood range.
